COURSE NUMBER: AAA522.M

CPE CREDIT: 2 HOURS

Understanding and Using the FASB Codification

Michael Lacina, CPA, PhD
University of Houston Clear Lake

The FASB Codification, effective for interim and annual periods beginning after September 15, 2009, is the single source of authoritative non-governmental US GAAP. It is a web-based resource that organizes accounting literature in a topical format. This course provides information about how the Codification is organized, the contents of the Codification, benefits of the Codification, and how CPAs can use the resource. The course includes a demonstration research topic.

Michael Lacina, PhD, is Assistant Professor of Accounting at University of Houston – Clear Lake.
